Summary of last week's meeting with Dr. Amy A. Adome

At our last meeting, Dr. Amy A. Adome, the current Senior Vice President for Sharp Healthcare, discussed her experience attending medical school as well as her decision to pursue healthcare management. Furthermore, she touched on the stereotyping she experienced in the healthcare field, as others presumed she was a nurse and believed woman shouldn't be involved in surgical specialties. Finally, she gave advice, stating that when looking for opportunities, we should say things like "why not me" instead of "why me."
